Water Allocation Reform

New opportunities for Historically Disadvantaged Individuals (HDI) to...

- Fight poverty
- Build businesses

Government's Water Allocation Reform programme aims to give HDI a fair share of water for community projects and business development

Government can show you where to get help to...

- Plan your project or business
- Get training to run your project or business
- Get the water you need for farming, forestry and other businesses

Projects and businesses that benefit women will get special support

If your community has an idea to start a community project or a business that needs water, speak to the DWAF. For more information contact: XXXXXXXXXXXX

The Water Allocation Reform programme supports BEE, women empowerment and the war on poverty.
